Seibold Security Moves into New Corporate Headquarters

Move into City Center consolidates workforce into a single workspace and brings the company into the heart of the downtown business center

Rochester, NY – March 1, 2017 – Seibold Security, a Rochester based single source provider of banking equipment and integrated electronic security systems, today announced it has begun moving into its new corporate headquarters at 12 Aqueduct St in downtown Rochester.

The move brings all of Seibold’s Rochester-based workforce under a single unified roof and puts the company at the heart of Rochester’s business center. “We are excited to be moving into our new home”, stated John Seibold Jr., Co-President of Seibold Security, “moving into the Aqueduct St building provides us with upgraded space for increased collaboration, team building, and brings us into a more vibrant and growing part of the city”.

“Our new facilities are much more modernized from our previous building and gives us a fresh new look,” added Tim Seibold, Co-President of Seibold Security, “we are better able to showcase our talents, capabilities, and technologies to existing and prospective clients and have a great deal of room to expand as we continually grow the Seibold team... all of which allows us to provide an even greater level of support to our customers.”

Seibold Security will be fully operational in their new facility by the middle of March.
